

Do You Have Arm Lymphedema?

Breast Cancer Related Lymphedema Research Study

Rehabilitation Associates of Naples and Vanderbilt University School of Nursing are conducting a study to see how different types of lymphedema treatment impact symptoms, quality of life, and arm swelling.

If you are a Breast Cancer Survivor and you suffer from Lymphedema, you may be eligible to take part in this study. If you are interested, please contact Ellen Poage-Hooper, ARNP, CLT-LANA, at 239-565-1802 or epoage@mac.com. You can also email Dr. Sheila H. Ridner at sheila.ridner@vanderbilt.edu for more information.

This study is sponsored by a grant from the Oncology Nursing Foundation.
